

Ten Ways

to prevent child abuse

- Teach children how to help keep themselves safe and protected.
- Open lines of communication with our children so they can talk about their concerns.

- Maintain safe environment compliance certifications for people who have contact with or access to our children.
- ensure that we, as safe adults, model appropriate boundaries and behavior for our children and the children in our ministries.
- Minimize opportunities for abuse or violation of boundaries. Choose group settings where possible.

 Monitor children's internet use.
- Discipline children thoughtfully and calmly, not when the adult caregiver is angry.

- Recognize signs and symptoms of child abuse—remember five steps taught in the Safe Environment Awareness sessions.
- Report concerns for abuse.
- Invest in our children. Give your time and talent and cultivate healthy relationships with the children in our Diocese.
- Encourage parental participation in children and youth activities.
